Maybe it's happened to you as it has to countless others...

You're driving home, listening to a story on NPR.

Suddenly, you find yourself in your driveway (or parking space or parking garage). Rather than turn the radio off, you stay in your car to hear the piece to the end... it's a Driveway Moment.

Have you had a driveway moment or been touched in some other indelible way by public radio? Are Classic 89 and Nature Coast 90 important parts of your daily life? Tell us about it — we'd love to hear your story. Email us at drivewaymoments@wuft.org

Need information on classical music selections aired on WUFT/WJUF? Give us a call... (352) 392-5200 ext. 1117

Underwriter HIGHLIGHT CORPORATE SUPPORT

This month WUFT salutes the merchants of Millhopper Square, who have collectively become corporate support partners. Led by Ingrid and Bubba Scales, owners of Wild Birds Unlimited, five shops in the Millhopper Square shopping center have banded together to support public broadcasting in North Central Florida. In addition to Wild Birds Unlimited, these merchants are Gifts of Avalon, Bead Store, Hanks Yarn and Fiber, Alternatives Global Marketplace and the Gainesville Artisans' Guild Gallery.

Located at the corner of North West 43rd St. and 16th Boulevard in Gainesville, these merchants are bringing art, culture and nature to North West Gainesville in an exciting new way. If you haven't visited Millhopper Square lately, you're missing some fantastic changes. The shops include beautiful do-it-yourself art and craft options in addition to fairly-traded globally-produced goods and some of the most exciting original art for display and sale. You'll also be able to satisfy your craving for birding and nature-related products.

By working together to support public broadcasting in such a significant way, these merchants not only make a positive impact on the community, they also have an opportunity to do well by doing good. Their collective support garners them attention from North Central Florida's most engaged listeners and viewers.

Contact Harvey Ward at hward@wuft.org for more information about how their partnership works and about how your business or organization can benefit from supporting public broadcasting.
